

New information about COVID 19 Lockdown and rules about going to school.

The government has told teachers and students/pupils that they should continue to go to school during this current lockdown period.

It is very important that teaching and learning continues and schools will have all the safety measures/precautions already in place to keep their students/pupils and staff safe.

The government will keep head-teachers informed as we move through this lockdown period and the head-teachers will let your class teacher know what is going on.

We know that this is a difficult time but your attendance at school is very important. It is important that you continue to learn in all aspects of school lessons and activities.

To be part of your school community and to be with friends and teachers and staff that understand you.

School is important and the government has told schools that they have to continue to teach their students/pupils during this national lockdown period. So it is important that you continue to attend school.
